Topographic Maps

- Index contours are contour lines labeled with a number that indicates the elevation.
- Depression contour lines have hachures, or short lines at right angles to the contour line, to indicate the direction of elevation change.

Copyright © McGraw-Hill Education

Types of Maps